JAPAN TRYING TO SHUT U.S. OUT OF CHINA

GERMANY WILL PAY FOR FRYE

AGREES TO INDEMNIFY SHIP'S OWNERS

Letter First Must Go Through Courts, However, Establish Facts

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Germany's intention to compensate the owners of the American ship, William P. Frye, sunk on the high seas with her cargo of wheat by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was formally communicated to the United States government today. Ambassador Gerard handed a note, handed him by the Berlin foreign office, in reply to the recent American communication, submitting a claim for an indemnity of $22,023.54 on behalf of the Frye's owners.

The foreign office upholds without qualification the legality under international law of the raider's action in sinking the Frye, and bases the liability of the German government to pay indemnity solely upon the old Prussian-American treaties of 1788 and 1828, which provide that contraband belonging to the subjects or citizens of either party cannot be confiscated by the other and may be detained or used only in consideration of payment of the full value.

Must Go Into Prize Court.

In view of this stipulation, the note says, of course, the American owners must be compensated. It is pointed out, however, that the case of necessity must go into a prize court, in order that questions of ownership, cargo, deterioration, etc., may be formally established.

The German position is that the Frye cargo of wheat was contraband because it was consigned "for orders" to Queenstown, which is declared to be a fortified port of Great Britain. No notice is taken of the fact that, since the wheat was sold en route to British citizens, the United States will file a claim of the vessel's owners only.

"Further orders have been placed for iron and rails by the railroads, and some large contracts have been made for structural iron for large buildings in different portions of the country."

Economy Saves Country.

The statement attributes depression to unusual conditions, but says that business here has been stabilized through the application of economy.

"The south, as a whole, reports a decided improvement in business. The present outlook and the basic conditions are good. Confidence has been restored," says the announcement.

"The effect of the past depression has been the re-enrichment of all classes. The retail and wholesale trade has greatly improved. Many farm districts report the best condition in years. The lumber business has shown reviving activity.

"Improvement is very noticeable throughout the western states. Many of the districts report a remarkable recovery, especially in the coal-mining districts since January 1. Mining and building have become active, and the agricultural outlook is excellent. Bank deposits are showing a satisfactory increase and all staple lines report very good business.

"Department stores report that March has been the best in their history. The tourist travel is larger than was expected. It is expected that prices for wool will be the highest since 1909, and the retail business is reviving while the crop conditions are excellent over the entire Pacific coast."

Reply to U. S. Note.

The German reply is as follows: "The undersigned has the honor to make reply to the note of his excellency, Mr. James W. Gerard, ambassador [Continued on Page Four]."

ONLY FEW VOTERS USED PREFERENTIAL SYSTEM

Less Than One-Eighth Took Advantage of New Plan: Canvassing Board Completes Work

Only one-eighth of those who voted at the election Tuesday utilized the preferential system in its entirety, according to final figures of the canvassing board, appointed by the city council, which completed its count yesterday. The official count shows only a few changes from the figures published in The Gazette Wednesday morning but does not change the status of any candidate or measure. The count will be submitted to the city council this morning.

In the fight for commissioner of public health, more voters were cast than for commissioner of public works, probably to the campaign in this instance. There was practically no competition against W. A. Anderson.

For commissioner of public health there were 8,226 first choice and 1,236 third choice, making a total of 12,582 total choices. For commissioner of public works there were 8,140 first choice votes, 2,112 second choice and 1,113 third choice, a total of 11,665. These figures are regarded as illuminative of the so-called failure of the preferential system, as only a small percentage voted all choices. If second and third choices had been voted full strength it is difficult to say who would have been elected.

Following are the official figures which will be certified by the council today:

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVED

Wave of Depression Passing and Country Entering Upon Boom Period

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Business conditions throughout the country are showing marked improvement in almost all lines, according to reports from national bank examiners, made public tonight by the treasury department. Eighty of the 99 examiners in the United States reported a permanent improvement in business, and Maine is said to be the only state where real depression exists.

The foreign office upholds without qualification the legality under international law of the raider's action in sinking the Frye, and bases the liability of the German government to pay indemnity solely upon the old Prussian-American treaties of 1788 and 1828, which provide that contraband belonging to the subjects or citizens of either party cannot be confiscated by the other and may be detained or used only in consideration of payment of the full value.

Day of Great Trouble.

"It seems to me that it is worth saying something like this: These are days of very great perplexity, when a great cloud of trouble hangs and broods over the greater part of the world. It seems as if great blind material forces had been released which had for a long time been held in leash and restraint. Yet and underneath it you can see the strong impulses of great ideals. It would be impossible for men to go through what men are going through on the battlefields of Europe and struggle through the present dark night of their terrible struggle if it were not that they saw, or thought that they saw, the broadening of light where the morning had come up and believed that they were standing each on his side of the contest for some eternal principle of right."

"Then, all about them, all about us there sits the silent, waiting tribunal which is going to utter ultimate judgment upon this struggle, the great tribunal of the opinion of the world, and I fancy I see, I hope that those who are engaged in the contest for some eternal principle of right."

SEVERE STORM SWEEPS THROUGH MISSOURI

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—A rain, wind and electrical storm which swept through Missouri, between St. Louis and Springfield tonight caused damage to life, property, telephone and telegraph communication.

The wind took on the velocity of a cyclone at Seymour, Mo., about 30 miles southeast of Springfield, the former place being isolated until midnight when it was reported that at least 20 persons had been injured during the storm. The two most seriously hurt were children on whom their home collapsed. The confusion was intensified when the Seymour electric light plant was damaged and the town thrown into darkness.

At Springfield young trees were twisted about the streets by the wind and some damage was done to frame dwellings.

Japan's efforts to encourage the cultivation of cotton in Formosa so far have ended in failure.

FRENCH AFRICAN TROOPS TO AID IN TURK ATTACK

PARIS, April 8.—French troops from Africa are ready to assist the allied fleet and British expeditionary forces against Turkey. The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

"The expeditionary corps of the orient, which was placed under command of Gen. A. G. L. d'Alma, and concentrated at Bizerte (a fortified seaport of Tunis, Africa) to perfect its organization, has effected the voyage of the Levant under the best of conditions. It has been ready since March 16 to aid the allied fleet and British expeditionary corps."

"In waiting, it was deemed advisable not to prolong the stay of the troops aboard the transports, and for this reason, the hospitality of Egypt was accepted. The French forces have been debarked at Alexandria and are installed at Ramleh, where they are resting and perfecting their organization and position. They are ready to proceed without delay to any point necessary."

THAW DEMANDS TRIAL
BY JURY ON SANITY

NEW YORK, April 8.—Attorneys for Harry K. Thaw today notified District Attorney Perkins and Attorney General Woodbury that on Monday they would ask for a jury trial in this county to determine Thaw's sanity. The notice was in the form of an order signed by Justice Newchamber of the supreme court, calling on the district attorney and attorney general to show cause why a jury should not be granted.

AVIATORS ON HAND FOR BORDER BATTLE

Both Sides at Matamoros to Use Aeroplanes in the Next Struggle

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., April 8.—The arrival of an American aviator at the Villa lines about Matamoros today, with news that more aeroplanes are coming and the whirr of a monoplane belonging to the Carranza garrison in Matamoros tonight, promised early development in the siege of the fortified city opposite here.

Jack Knight was the American aviator. He registered from El Paso. With him came Juan F. Garcia, a Villa aviator, from Monterey. A Villa biplane has lain idle for a week near Matamoros for lack of an aviator. Knight and Garcia said they were informed more biplanes are coming but they did not know when to expect them.

"The little French monoplane of the Carranza garrison, carrying a 50-horsepower engine, which was taken across the bridge this morning, was in readiness for action tonight. It was said to be very speedy. It carries only one person, with additional capacity for about 200 pounds of bombs compared with a capacity for two persons in the Villa biplane, with an additional bomb-carrying weight of 400 pounds."

P. A. Chapa, aviator of the Carranza plane, said he was supplied with steel darts which he expects to drop. The Villa aviators reported that the railroad which the Carranza troops tore up, delaying arrival of the Villa artillery, has been practically repaired. They said the artillery trains should arrive within a day or two. A small portion of the artillery already is at Villa headquarters.

Preparations for Battle.

Further evidence of preparations for battle was observed today in movements of Villa cavalrymen south of the city, apparently to strengthen the lines already posted south of Matamoros, the only approach on the Mexican side not fully guarded.

This movement caused speculation here as to whether it meant an attack on Matamoros from the south. Such an attack would bring Brownsville's business section in direct line of fire, not much more than a mile away.

A squad of United States cavalrymen were today placed on duty about the Brownsville electric light plant and in the neighborhood where bullet dropped in an outlying residential section yesterday during a small action between outposts west of Matamoros.

Men who helped transfer the contents of an express car to Matamoros last night said it contained 3,000 hand grenades despite the fact that the United States custom house manifest gave the contents as rifle cartridges.

Neither side will give out the number of men it has, but reports from the various camps indicate the Villa troops now number about 5,500 against a garrison of 2,500.

THIEF ROBS HORSES OF HAIR FROM THEIR TAILS

SPOKANE, Wash., April 8.—A robber invaded the railroad yards tonight and cut the hair from the tails of 160 horses being held for shipment to Chicago. The horses were not mutilated otherwise, but it is said the disfigurement of their tails will make them practically unsaleable.

It is estimated that the thief carried away about 80 pounds of hair valued at 8 cents a pound.

ELLIOTT URGES NEW CABINET MEMBER TO CONTROL RAILROADS

Regulation and Competition
Impose Too Great a Burden, He Says

NORWICH, Conn., April 8.—The establishment of a department of transportation with a secretary of transportation, who would be a member of the president's cabinet, was advocated by Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, in an address here tonight before the chamber of commerce and the members of the eastern Connecticut development committee.

"The present condition of the American railroads is due in part," he said, "to an effort on the part of the country to fix rates and service by regulation, and at the same time have them fixed by competition, thus creating an almost impossible condition, somewhat destructive of results and values."

"It is a question how far it is to the public interest to apply the so-called antitrust law to the transportation business. Well organized, prudently managed and wisely regulated combinations of railroads may, in the long run, produce greater efficiency and service to the public than excessive competition, with the resulting duplication of facilities and increased expenses."

Need New Department.

"I believe it would be well to have a department of transportation with a secretary of transportation at the head of it, who should be a member of the cabinet. Such a man would of necessity have to champion somewhat the rights and privileges of the transportation business, such as the secretaries of the treasury, commerce and labor speak for their particular subjects. Such an officer would have a wholesome balancing effect between the demands of the public and of the regulatory organizations on one side and any errors of policy and management on the part of the owners of the property on the other side."

Referring to the New England railroad situation, Mr. Elliott said that with conflicting laws in the different states, it "calls attention very forcibly to the desirability of a federal incorporation act for those railroads, the majority of whose business is interstate."

FOOTPRINTS AND ARMY CAP INDICATE SOLDIER AS H. LOGAN MURDERER

DENVER, April 8.—A new United States army cap and footprints near by were the clews upon which officers today sought to determine the identity of the slayer of Frederick C. Matson, whose body was found late yesterday in the office of the Abbott & Schuberg Lumber company, near Fort Logan.

Finger prints on the military cap were to be examined by experts, and officers at Fort Logan are endeavoring to learn to whom the cap belonged.

Matson evidently had been killed sometime Tuesday night. A bullet through the heart ended Matson's struggle with his assailant. The interior of the little building which served as an office and Matson's home was in disorder from the encounter and the body bore finger marks on the throat and evidence of a blow on the head.

Other bullet wounds indicated that Matson, after being wounded, continued the struggle until a bullet reached his heart.

Officers stated that approximately $88 in cash and Matson's watch were missing. The body was found late yesterday by a driver from the company's main office at Englewood. J. R. Nichols, coroner of Arapahoe county, announced an inquest will be held Friday.

German Paper Says American Note Weak

BERLIN, April 8.—The Rhenish Westfaelische Zeitung, discussing the American note concerning Great Britain's blockade against Germany, says:

"It is rather a petition than a demand. It contains no clear rejection of the British conception of an effective blockade of the German borders and President Wilson fails to announce his fundamental standpoint regarding Britain's measure. His foreshadowing of future prospects and claims for indemnity amount only to a confession of present weakness, and Great Britain can derive from all this verbal legge the certainty that in all cases where American rights are trod under foot America's protest will resound and that the press agent of the great republic will issue a new academic discussion about what is right and what is not about what the United States demands for its citizens and what it expects of England, but there will be no tangible deeds."

WOMEN TO TAKE PLACE OF FRENCH AMBULANCE DRIVERS

PARIS, April 8.—The French Women's Automobile club has decided to recruit women motorists and bicyclists to form a brigade of ambulances for the Red Cross army. Applications are coming in at the rate of 100 per day.

The organization plans to find enough capable women volunteers to replace all the men at present driving a busses which are in short supply because of better wages at 1 franc.

HUERTA ON WAY TO U.S. GEN. CARRANZA PROTESTS

Former Dictator Said to Be Enroute to Mexico to Head New Revolution

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Officials of the United States government are viewing with indifference the coming of Victoriano Huerta to New York city. Counsellor Robert Lansing said today the question of admission had not been considered by the state department and that he did not know what any point in this connection had been raised by any other department of the government.

The fact that Cipriano Castro, the exiled Venezuelan dictator, had been denied admission to the United States a year or so ago led to the belief in some quarters that a similar course might be followed in regard to Huerta.

It was pointed out, however, that Castro's entrance was opposed by the Venezuelan government because of indictments pending against him.

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—The Carranza government at Vera Cruz will ask the United States to deny admittance to Victoriano Huerta, the former Mexican dictator, now on the way to New York according to a message which Adolfo Carillo, Carranza agent here, received today. Carranza has evidence, Carillo said he was informed, that a coterie of "military," or Mexican Conservatives had assembled in New York to meet Huerta and plan with him a movement to overthrow all Mexican leaders now in the field and restore Huerta to the dictatorship.

Carranza's request that Huerta be denied admission to this country will be based, it was stated, upon the declaration that he intends to abuse the neutrality of the United States and therefore would prove an undesirable alien.

LONDON, April 9. (Friday).—A neutral correspondent of the Times, who has been traveling in Germany, says that among the German people, especially those of military rank and caste, the opinion is strong that nothing will prevent Antwerp and the strip of Belgian coast stretching in a line to the German frontier south of Dutch Limburg from belonging henceforth to Germany.

They agree, the correspondent says, in some cases to let the rest go, as they admit it would be a too long and difficult task for the Germans to take the whole of Belgium.

"It is also declared," the correspondent continues, "that if Germany does not take a strip of Holland during this war, the time will soon be ripe for her to take Flushing and the mouth of the Scheldt, with sufficient land on each side."

"Dutch neutrality is spoken of with the utmost contempt. Germany is making preparations on the Dutch frontier, especially on both sides of Limburg province, in view of a possible attack. Several lines of trenches have been constructed in these regions and the troops are kept ready.

The people living in this part of the country have been advised by the military authorities to leave for Dusseldorf, Cologne, or other towns further inland, in case hostilities are begun between Holland and Germany, since Germany has not sufficient troops to undertake an immediate vigorous offensive."

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mildewed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), in cheaper and better than soap, or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoons will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, damp-dust and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mildewed coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

CARRANZA FORCES DEFEAT GEN. VILLA

Martial Law Declared at Tampico; General Situation in Mexico Is Bad

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Claims of a decisive Carranza victory over Alvaro Obregon at Celaya, 180 miles north of Mexico City, reports that martial law had been established in Tampico, and that fighting continued at Ebanio, where the contending forces were estimated at 7,000 men, were received today in dispatches to the state department. Counsellor Shinnian at Vera Cruz reported the fighting at Celaya, but no word had been received from United States agents as to results of battles in the Impano and Queretaro districts nearby.

The department's announcement stated:

"Advices just received from Vera Cruz state that on the afternoon of April 7 General Carranza made a statement announcing the defeat of Villa troops by General Obregon at Celaya, after 30 hours' fighting, terminating on the morning of the seventh. It is stated that Villa commanded in person. It is reported that 1,000 were killed, many wounded and 300 taken prisoners. According to this announcement, arms and ammunition were captured by General Obregon, who is following the retreating forces of General Villa."

Situation Elsewhere.
Other advices given out by the department stated:

"The department is informed that the food situation at Tampico has been relieved by a shipment of flour just received from New Orleans.

"Martial law exists in Tampico and trains are operating to the north as far as Victoria and to the westward as far as Ebanio. Advices dated April 6 state that fighting continues at Ebanio, and that it is estimated there are several thousand men engaged. It is reported some skirmishing has taken place in the vicinity of the Panuco river.

"On April 7, fighting at Ebanio was reported to be more severe than it had been previously. Oil operators and the chamber of commerce at Tampico have organized for the purpose of relieving famine conditions."

The department today received its first comprehensive report in many weeks covering general conditions in the district of Durango. It is dated March 21, and says:

Conditions in Durango.

"Military movements in this section have been few, and the northwestern part of the state of Durango is held by forces of Generals Domingo and Mariano Arrieta, who refused to follow General Villa in his movement against General Carranza."

"So far as known, no efforts have been made to disperse small marauding bands that control this northwestern mountainous region. Conditions have been such that for nine months the American consulate at Durango has had no direct word from the consular agency at Topia, Durango."

The report added that Gen. Tomas Urbina had a small force in the northern part of Durango, and exercises whatever authority exists there."

"Guaneacel, an important mining district and one of the two points in the Durango consulat district where any mining is going on, is located in this territory controlled by General Urbina," the report continued. "On March 30, the provisional governor of the state of Durango, Emiliano G. Saravia, issued a decree which is said amount practically to confiscation of all hides, skins, horse and cattle hair and sisal hemp."

Train Service, Irregular.

The report adds that there is irregular train service and that many kinds and classes of paper currency are in forced circulation.

Latest advices from Progresso state conditions in general in the state of Yucatan have improved.

Moritz Galler, a German subject, manager of the electric light company at Merida, who was accused of having dynamited a Carranza military train, has been released from custody but his case was not entirely disposed of.

A statement issued tonight by the Carranza agency here says, in part:

"A dispatch from El Paso says that General Angeles left Monterrey yesterday with 4,000 troops going toward Saltillo, leaving the garrison at Monterrey under command of Raoul Madero with less than 1,000 men. Alfonso Madero, who was attacked with black small-pox at Monterrey, is reported as improving, but is suffering from an attack of paralysis which is pronounced incurable."

In the direction of Mezalaborce the Austria-Germany, having received considerable reinforcements, attempted to develop an offensive, but our troops, after having occupied the front of Czabaloce-Szuko, repelled all their attacks and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

In the region north of the railway at Uzick and Borca, our troops succeeded in crossing the principal chain of the Carpathians, thereby attaining important tactical results on the heights south and north of Wolasz.

"On the other portions of the front there has been no important change."

Russia Trying to Cut
Hungary From Austria

LONDON, April 6. (Friday).—The battle in the Carpathians is being fought for political ends first of all, says the Morning Post-Hungary correspondent.

"Nothing would suit the Russians better when established on the Hungarian plains," he adds, "than to begin negotiations with the Hungarian leaders, and, if possible, detach Hungary from Austria in a separate peace. To-day this is the reason. Germans are making such great efforts to hurry troops into the Carpathians."

The Russian advanced into the plateau will at least be slow, for every hill is a miniature fortress."

FUNERAL ON ETEL HALTS INTERNMENT

Burial of German Sailor to Be Made With Full
Naval Honors

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Final steps in the internment of the German commerce raider, Eltel, Capt. Friedrich, were postponed today upon instructions from Secretary Daniels to permit a funeral with full naval honors tomorrow at New York Navy yard for one of the cruiser's sailors, who died aboard ship two days ago. At the request of Captain Thierichens, the Eltel was permitted to remain at New York Navy yard after the funeral, when she will go to the Norfolk navy yard.

It was suggested feasible that the Eltel might not remain at the navy yard for the period of her internment because of crowded conditions there, but might be taken under convoy of an American cruiser to another place to remain until the end of the war.

Secretary Daniels had sought that Rear Admiral Beatty, commander at the yards, until he received further instructions, would notify the cruiser's officers and sailors that they would be permitted to remain aboard her. The admiral has been instructed to receive parades of officers and take necessary steps to assure that the sailors take no further part in the war.

Will Be Moved Today.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 8.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich will be moved to the Albemarle Navy yard for internment late tomorrow, after the funeral here of Seaman Prel, a member of the crew, who was killed accidentally yesterday in a fall down a companionway.

Prel was the only member of the ship's company to die since the Eltel left Tsing-Tau, China, last August. He will be buried here with full German military honors.

Although official notice that he desired to intern his ship was given by Captain Thierichens to Collector Hamilton last night, the crew was not notified until noon today. The men were lined up on deck and received an official statement from their commander.

"The men received the statement in silence," Captain Thierichens said later. "Their love of the fatherland is supreme and they are in deep mourning—all of them would have gladly gone to sea and risked their lives for their country, but it was of no use in the face of certain destruction awaiting us."

The commander insisted today he had intended to depart on the last few hours before his allotted time in an American port expired.

"Last Saturday night, when we were at liberty to go," he said, "we planned to go and wanted to go but it was impossible. That was the night of the big storm. The storm did not stop us. I liked the storm, but my boilers were not ready."

No man is wise enough to pronounce judgment, but we can all hold our spirits in readiness to accept the truth when it dawns on us and is revealed to us in the outcome of this tragic struggle.

No Man Can See Outcome.

One can see that it is only in such general terms that one can speak in the model of a confused world, because, as I have already said, no man has the key to this confusion. No man can see the outcome, but every man can keep his own spirit prepared to continue to the last event when the outcome does itself.

That is the reason I said to a body similar to this only a few months ago that I welcomed the atmosphere which was published as a sailor's account of the sinking of the German cruiser Blucher recently: "When the ship was sinking I jumped clear of her into the terribly cold water, which was full of dead men with shattered limbs who were crying for assistance."

The president created this body of the federal trade commission "in order that there might be an agency to which the business men might appeal for information and direction as to all matters touching large trade relations, and being advised could avoid the complication growing out of innocent violation of the law."

At the night session of the senate, the general appropriation bill was passed on second reading.

Members of the house and legislative reporters were the guests of Speaker Philip B. Stewart at a banquet to-night.

THORNE ASKS FOR RAILROAD HISTORY

Went to Know Where Money Has Been Spent by Roads in Recent Years

CHICAGO, April 8.—A complete exhibition of the financial history of the 41 western railroad systems which are petitioning for permission to increase their freight rates on certain commodities was asked today in the hearing of the western rate case at the close of the presentation of witnesses for the railroads before W. M. Daniels, interstate commerce commissioner.

The request for information came in the shape of 35 interrogatories filed by Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa railroad commission and chairman of the special committee representing 16 western state commissions opposing the railroads' plea for advances in freight rates.

The interrogatories ask enlightenment as to the disposition of railroad revenue in recent years, specific data on certain operating costs as well as the financial history of the railroads. "The information we are asking this commission to require the carriers to furnish," Mr. Thorne said in presenting the interrogatories, "is in the main similar to the data the commission itself demanded in the eastern rate case. We consider it extremely important that the same character of information be supplied in this investigation."

Asks Where Money Has Gone.

"One of the questions which varies from the eastern request for information is: State what sums have been expended in raising the standard of your property or in making improvements, additions or extensions which have been charged to operating expenses during each of the fiscal years from 1901 to 1914, inclusive."

"Railroad officials in taking the stand frankly admitted on cross-examination that large sums of money for additions and betterments had been so expended and charged to operating expenses, but the companies so far have refused to state the amount of money so expended."

Consideration of the interrogatories was continued until tomorrow when C. C. Wright, counsel for the railroads, said he would state the position the railroads would take in that regard.

One of the questions asks for a list of all directors, officers and employees who received salaries of $10,000 or more per annum in the last year. Another reads: "Give information regarding payments made for influencing legislation, assisting political campaigns, special legal services, entertainment of public officials and for influencing public opinion through the press during the period 1907 to 1914, inclusive."

The financial questions include queries concerning the sources of money charged to roadway and equipment, nonrailroad property held, and security issues.

To Question Bush and Felton.

In addition to propounding the questions, Mr. Thorne asked leave to further cross-examine B. F. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific, and S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western.

Among the last witnesses called by the railroads were O. G. Smith, superintendent of transportation of the Missouri-Kansas & Texas railway, and C. B. Strohm, superintendent of transportation of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, who told of the relative loads of livestock and meat as compared with other freight.

N. D. Ballantine, assistant to the second vice president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, presented statistics on the hauling power by locomotives hauling livestock trains and of engines hauling other freight, and gave figures to show that more coal per gross ton mile was used on engines traveling rapidly than was burned on engines of slower speed.

S. B. Fisher, chairman of the valuation committee of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway, gave the cost of reproducing stock pens and other special facilities of the road necessary for handling livestock as $74,000.

Cross-examination hinged mainly on the methods by which the witnesses had arrived at their conclusions.

Fred C. Fury, assistant general freight agent for the Illinois Central, was the last witness. He outlined a plan for changing the tariffs on live stock from New Orleans from a carload to 100 pounds basis.

U. S. PROTESTS AGAINST THE VILLA MINING DECREE

EL PASO, Tex., April 8.—George C. WILL BREAK UP BOY GANGS, SAYS DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Organized gangs of young thieves, who have been robbing empty houses and damaging property in many parts of the city, are to be broken up and the boys sent to the state reformatory. This is the announcement of District Attorney M. W. Purcell, and the juvenile authorities. Three boys have just been sentenced to the state school for damaging property. Vacant houses have been entered, stripped of electric light and plumbing fixtures, furniture stolen or broken. One house in Broadmoor was plundered by the youths. Several arrests are expected this week.

DEMANDS ON ASSOCIATED CHARITIES SHOW INCREASE

Expenditures for Last Three Months $614, More Than Receipts; Resources Exhausted, Says Agent Worcester

The work of the Associated Charities has been unusually heavy since January 1, according to the report of Agent W. F. Worcester, which was submitted to the board of directors yesterday, and there have been increased demands for food, clothing, rent and fuel. The unemployment situation alone has been responsible for a large increase in the work of the association, and illness has been another factor.

During January, February and March, the Associated Charities assisted 578 families and homeless men. In 1914, during the same months, 460 were aided, showing an increase of 120 cases this year. The expenses this year were $2,506.18 TOT. THE THREE MONTHS, and last year the total was $1,946.82, an increase for this year of $559.24.

The total receipts for the three months amounted to $1,992.07, while the expenditures reached $2,506.16, an excess of expenditures over receipts of $614.09.

Hard to Raise Money.

It has been exceedingly difficult to raise money since the first of the year, states the report. The receipts for the first three months this year were $96 more than for the same period in 1914, yet the amount lacked $614 of being sufficient to meet the needs. Extracts from the report follow:

"The unemployment situation alone has been responsible for a large increase in the work. Many industrious, able-bodied men tramped the streets day after day, looking for work. Through the kindness of the public in buying kindling, many a family was supplied with work. There is still need, and it is hoped the public will continue to buy wood.

"Tuberculosis, as always, has brought many cases to our attention, and the grippe and mumps brought increased expenses in many families.

"Everything possible was done to keep the expenses at as low a figure as possible, but the demands for rent, fuel and for hospital care were so inconsistent that they could not be further reduced without causing suffering."

Mr. Worcester says that it is poor policy not to relieve suffering adequately. Needy families must be supplied with food, clothing, shelter and medical attention in sufficient quantities to keep them from suffering.

The report closes with an appeal to the public for funds, as the association is at the end of its resources. It says:

"While we may expect some relief during the coming months from the burdens we are carrying, we must put forward special efforts to raise money to meet the suffering we shall have to face. We are at the end of our resources."

MISS HOPPER SPEAKS AT Y. W. C. A. VESPERS SUNDAY

Miss Mary Johns Hopper, executive secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association for Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania, will speak at the Y. W. C. A. vespers service here Sunday.

Miss Hopper's experience in association work, together with a natural gift, makes her a most interesting speaker. She was state student secretary for North and South Carolina for two years; general secretary at Jersey City; organized and carried on welfare work in one of the largest department stores in Philadelphia, and for five years had supervision of all the industrial work in Pennsylvania, organizing and supervising the association work in factories, stores and mills in that state of many industries. At the present time Miss Hopper is executive secretary for the three states of Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania. She is on her way to attend the biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian Association, to be held in Los Angeles, May 5 to 10.

The service on Sunday is to be a special one for young women. The usual social hour will follow.

Federated Trades Opposed to Firemen Painting Stations

Recommending that if the city commissioners see fit to have the firemen paint the fire stations, that the commissioners, in their spare time do the work of cleaning and painting the city hall, the Federated Trades council last night adopted a resolution opposing painting by city firemen on city property. It was held that the work should be given to union painters.

The trouble over painting the fire stations came up several days ago when some of the firemen refused to work at painting the stations during their spare time. Some did, however, and for a time a breach in the department was expected.

The charter rules for city firemen state that they shall take care of all apparatus and buildings. Probably the council will take action on the question this morning.

COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE: FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1915

Santa Fe Tour Co. Will Bring 10,000 Visitors to Springs

About 10,000 tourists will be brought to Colorado Springs by the Santa Fe Tour company this summer, according to L. A. Davis of the Silver Grill cafe, who has signed a contract with the company to provide food for 45 of these parties. Practically all the parties will stop here for a day or more on their way to California and the exposition. The special train will be handled by the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

SPRING AUTOISTS TO WEAR BIG HATS AND UNIFORMS OF KHAKI

White, eight or 10 automobiles already have been entered for the Pikes Peak Ocean-to-Ocean highway clubby run, men are still wanted to make the trip, who will represent the business and various other activities in the Pikes Peak region. It is urged that all those who can spare the time make arrangements to take the trip and confer with Secretary A. W. Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce on the matter.

At a meeting of the special tour committee yesterday it was decided that the motorists wear sombreros and khaki uniforms.

Letters which are received daily at the association say that the road conditions in the various states through which the tour will pass are good. A letter from St. Joseph Mo. says that the highway through that part of the state is in splendid condition, and that it has been dragged several times to prepare for the arrival of the motorists.

Various business and automobile organizations along the route of the tour are planning receptions for the motorists, and almost without exception expect to provide pilot cars which will take the party part of the way to the next stop.

The Road Marker, an automobile journal of Des Moines, Ia., writes urging that the party travel through Iowa. This probably will be impossible to do, and visit Clinton and Davenport, as the Des Moines paper suggests. There is a great deal of friendly rivalry among the various towns.

The motorists will leave here next Wednesday morning, starting from the Burns building.

G. A. R. to Observe Surrender to Grant

The fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of General Lee to General Grant at Appomattox, Va., will be observed this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at G. A. R. Post No. 22 and affiliated orders. The exercises will be held in Immortelles, with other relics worn upon the battlefield, will be on exhibition, together with sprigs of myrtle, honeysuckle and cedar taken from the grove in which the last Confederate cannon was fired. These mementoes were sent to Asa Cull by a niece. Mrs. Evelyn G. Peterson of Champlin, Va., and with a number of postcard views showing points of historic interest have been arranged and mounted in the form of a maltese cross.

Commander Robert Waugh will preside, and the following program will be given: "America," by the audience; prayer, the Rev. J. W. Finkelman, chaplain-in-charge; Mrs. Ray Davis; reading, Mrs. Coblin; address, Prof. C. M. Barnard; selection, Temple Male quartet; recitation, "Appomattox," Conrad Hamilton, composed by Miss May Mass; solo, Mrs. Eva Allen; reminiscences, G. Mackie; national anthem, by the audience.

In view of the entertainment the regular meeting of the Daughters of Veterans has been postponed until next week.

MERCHANTS DIVISION TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Retail Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock, at the association rooms in the Burns building. The meeting will be preceded by an informal refectory supper. B. R. Ford will give a series of demonstrations and explanations of electric bushwhacker motor. There will include a report from the committee on agricultural papers. Those wishing to attend are asked to notify the office of the association at Main 1901.

The charter rules for city firemen state that they shall take care of all apparatus and buildings. Probably the council will take action on the question this morning.

CRYSTAL PARK OPENS

The Crystal Park Automobile company opened the 1915 season yesterday, one car making the trip to the park and return. For the present the running schedule will be one car per day, leaving Colorado Springs in the morning. Cars will be run in the afternoon if parties of four or more are arranged to make the trip. A special tour party from the east will make the trip tomorrow.

DEMANDS ON ASSOCIATED CHARITIES SHOW INCREASE

Expenditures for Last Three Months $614, More Than Receipts; Resources Exhausted, Says Agent Worcester

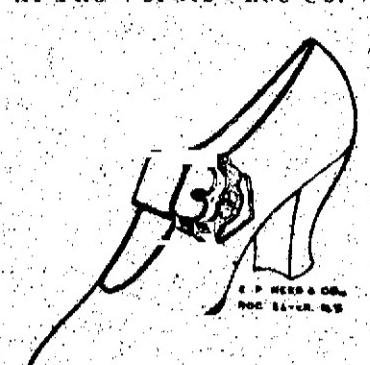

The work of the Associated Charities has been unusually heavy since January 1, according to the report of Agent W. F. Worcester, which was submitted to the board of directors yesterday, and there have been increased demands for food, clothing, rent and fuel. The unemployment situation alone has been responsible for a large increase in the work of the association, and illness has been another factor.

L. R. Carron was the first candidate to file his statement of expense in the recent election in which he was a candidate for commissioner of public works and property. Carron spent $18.60 for newspaper advertising. He tried to file his statement Tuesday, but did not have it in the regular form and sworn to before a notary.

All candidates must file itemized statements of their election expenses with the city clerk within 30 days after the election. Those who fail to shall, upon conviction, be disqualified from holding municipal office or employment for two years, and if he is one of the successful candidates he loses his office.

It is the desire of the commission to make "Colorado day" the feature of the playground work this summer.

How "JITNEY" ORIGINATED

From the Literary Digest.

When the jitney bus became epidemic, every one began asking the meaning and derivation of the name.

That jitney signified a nickel was soon established, but how the word came first to be used in that sense was not so easily discovered. All the authorities were at a loss, and even The Lexicographer was compelled to confess his inability to answer the inquiries.

The Chicago News is apparently the first one to suggest a solution of the puzzle.

CABINET FAILS TO AGREE ON LIQUOR ISSUE IN ENGLAND

LONDON, April 8.—The cabinet having failed to come to a decision on the drink question, no settlement is expected until parliament meets next week. The impression is growing that the government will content itself with bringing in a measure prohibiting the sale of spirits. Even that step will not be exclusively a government policy, since nothing can be done without consultation with other parties.

The conservative leaders, A. J. Balfour and Andrew Bonar Law are believed already to have given privately their assent to whatever action may be taken provided no measure for total prohibition be considered at this time.

In proposing the prohibition of the sale of spirits and possibly wine and lessening the strength of beer, Great Britain would be following the footsteps of Russia, which before the adoption of total prohibition forbade the manufacture or use of spirits.

Even the prohibition of traffic in spirits is not likely to be adopted without considerable opposition from the vested interests. The influence of the party favoring voluntary abstinence is growing. Its latest recruits include the heads of various churches, who have signed a pledge to abstain from intoxicating liquors during the war.

Opposition to the suppression of the use of spirits is in some degree sectional since Scotland consumes per capita three times as much spirits as England, and half again as much as Ireland. Scottish opposition if solid might easily cause the defeat of the measure.

STATE OF WAR EXISTS ON CHAMBORD ESTATE

LONDON, April 8.—A situation amounting virtually to a state of war exists on the historic Chambord estate of Prince Elias of Bourbon, a Parma knight of the Golden Fleece, whose sister Princess Zita, is the wife of Archduke Charles Francis, heir apparent to the Austrian throne. The tenants of the 15,000-acre estate are arrayed on one side of the conflict, according to the Matin Blois correspondent, while the agent for the prince's property Monti De Reze is on the other. Reze is said to have managed the property according to the old feudal system and his methods have necessitated several times the intervention of prefectoral and judicial authorities. The police now are investigating a fire which broke out simultaneously at four different points in the magnificent park and destroyed over 300 acres of timber valued at $60,000 francs ($12,000).

The domain of the prince, which is situated in the valley of the Loire and was laid out by Francis I in 1519, is shut off from the outside world by 30 miles of high walls. Notwithstanding this fact, however, and the precautions taken by Reze, the Matin says, reports of his evictions and coercions have become widely circulated in that region and feeling is bitter. The situation is aggravated by the belief that Prince Elias is fighting with the Austrian army in which he is a captain on the general staff.

Costa Rican President Had Narrow Escape When Boat Is Wrecked

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 8.—Alfredo Gonzalez, president of Costa Rica, had a narrow escape from drowning when the presidential yacht was wrecked in the Caribbean three days ago. He and the members of his party had to swim ashore through a heavy surf.

The president, accompanied by the members of his cabinet, a group of government officials and several congressmen, went on the government yacht to the Talamancan region on the Atlantic coast. On their way back to Port Limon a heavy norther struck the yacht and she was driven ashore on the rocks. The passengers and crew had to take to the water. They were all successful in getting safely to dry land but found the point where they made shore to be isolated.

It took the shipwrecked party two days during which time they were without food or shelter to walk to the nearest point on the railroad from which they could get back to the capital. They came into San Jose today. The recital of the dangers to which President Gonzalez was subjected made a deep impression on his countrymen and he was given a rousing reception as he drove through the streets of the city.

The submarine's motors, which had suffered a blowout, would never be the same again. She said he also told her the submarine had only four days' supply of air. Instead of a ten weeks' supply provided by the regulations, Mrs. Nelson returned yesterday from Honolulu.

ITALY STOPS GERMAN MISSION TO ABYSSINIA

ROME, via Paris, April 8.—The members of the German mission who made an unsuccessful attempt to penetrate to Addis Abeba to communicate with the German minister to Abyssinia have just arrived in Rome on their way home. Italy did not permit them passage through Eritrea, but undertook to see that mail for the minister would go forward in due course.

The members of the mission had a series of remarkable experiences, which included 22 days on the Red Sea in a native boat; an encounter with a French cruiser which almost resulted in their capture and persistent but futile efforts to obtain permission to travel through the Italian coast country.

It has been rumored that the object of this mission was to instigate the Abyssinians to attack British forces in the Sudan. That the Germans deny, saying their purpose was only to carry mail to the minister.

This denial has been met by Italian newspapers with a recital of the composition of the mission and also by the fact that it traveled through Roumania, Bulgaria, Turkey and Asia Minor before landing on the Arabian coast near Akabah.

The mission consisted of Herr Frobenius, a German explorer who is described as an intimate friend of Emperor William and two secretaries and a special attache of the foreign office.

From Akabah the travelers crossed the Red Sea to Massawa, capital of the Italian colony of Eritrea. It was on this trip that a French cruiser overhauled them. The native boat chartered by the mission was thoroughly searched by the French officers but the four Germans had so carefully hidden themselves that they remained undiscovered.

When it was apparent that Italian authorities would not permit them to go to Eritrea the mission gave up its objective and started on the journey home.

BETHLEHEM STEEL IS MARKET SENSATION

NEW YORK, April 8.—The extraordinary gyrations of Bethlehem Steel furnished the sensational feature of today's stock market, its course strongly suggesting a "corner."

The stock opened at an advance over the previous day and by noon had attained a new high record at 984.

In the early afternoon it crossed par and hung around 102 until the final half hour when it rose by leaps and bounds to 117, fell back to 105, up again to 110 and closed at 105. At its maximum price the stock showed a gain of 29 points. Its net gain was 174 points.

Wall street was of the opinion that a stubborn short interest had been "queued."

FALABA WAS UNARMED, SAYS BRITISH REPORT

LONDON, April 8.—The official information bureau issued a statement today saying that the British steamer Falaba, sunk at sea March 28 by a German submarine with a loss of over 100 lives, was not armed.

It is not true, the statement goes on, that sufficient time was given the passengers and the crew of this vessel to escape. The German submarine closed in on the Falaba, ascertained her name, signaled her to stop and gave those on board five minutes to take to their boats. It would have been nothing less than a miracle, it is pointed out, if all the passengers and the crew of a good-sized liner had been able to take to their boats within the time allowed.

"While some of the boats were still on their davits," the statement declares, "the submarine fired a torpedo at the Falaba at short range. This action made it absolutely certain that there must be great loss of life and it must have been committed knowingly with the intent of producing that result."

The conduct of all on board the Falaba appears to have been excellent. There was no avoidable delay in getting out the boats. It possibly is true, but quite irrelevant, that a trained man-of-war's crew of equal numbers might have managed to escape in similar circumstances with less loss of life.

To accuse the Falaba's crew of negligence under the circumstances could not easily be paralleled."

Greater Consideration Is to Be Shown Alien Women and Girls by U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., April 8.—War torn Belgian cities have appealed to San Francisco for advice, based on experience, in building new cities from their ruins.

A letter received by M. M. O'Shaughnessy, city engineer, from Charles Colvin, one of a board of architects now conferring in London, asks answers to a series of questions and requests photographs bearing on the rebuilding of San Francisco after the earthquake and fire of 1906.

Materials, designs, methods and finances are included in the scope of the questions.

AMERICAN DESCRIBES RAID OF ZEPPELIN AGAINST PARIS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Greater consideration is to be shown in the future to alien women and girls who have been arrested or detained by immigration authorities under amendments to the immigration rules which have just been approved by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Hereafter those detained or arrested upon their arrival in this country will be placed under the supervision of special female officers, who will see to it that they are properly cared for in the immigration stations or in philanthropic or other similar organizations. Under no circumstances shall detained women and girls be placed in jail or other similar places unless such incarceration is absolutely necessary.

It being the purpose of this special procedure to humanize the administration of the law," says the bureau of immigration.

It is important that the cases of women and girls shall be handled in a particularly considerate and careful manner, not only while the aliens are being detained in this country, but, in the event of deportation, after they arrive in the country of their nativity or at the port where they originally embarked for the United States."

REUNION CALLED IN OLD CONFEDERATE CAPITAL

RICHMOND, Va., April 8.—Invitations were on the way today to the governors of the various Southern states and their staffs from Governor Stuart of Virginia, asking them to attend what he declares may be the last reunion of Confederate veterans in the Confederate capital, to be held here beginning June 1. Features of the gathering will include the dedication of the Confederate Memorial Institute and the laying of the cornerstone of a monument to Gen. Stonewall Jackson.

"In all human probability," says the invitation, "this will be the last reunion of Confederate survivors to be held at the capital of the Confederacy."

THE REAL SECRETARY OF STATE

THE man who is keeping the United States out of hot water in the various diplomatic tangles existing, the man who shapes the notes to the foreign powers in fact, the man upon whom President Wilson is relying to steer the ship of state in its path of neutrality, is not William Jennings Bryan. It is Robert Lansing, Counselor of the State Department.

An anomalous situation exists in this Administration. Formerly the Secretary of State was head of the department. Now it is merely a political wirepuller. Bryan hasn't had time for his work. He doesn't enjoy international problems and his mind is incapable of grasping the complications that must be solved. He cannot be content with spending long hours at his desk as his predecessor did. Bryan is neither an executive nor a student. He likes the lime-light better than the swivel chair. He is a performer of vaudeville stunts and not of feats of statecraft.

President Wilson has taken a hand in the management of the state department as a president seldom has done. Counselor Lansing is his right-hand man, and together they have smoothed over the troublesome problems of the European war as it affects America.

The international situation since last July has been a cloudy one, and the longer the war in Europe continues, the more complicated will be the questions affecting the interests of neutrals. The Mexican tangle is as serious as ever. The Colombian and Nicaraguan treaties are pending and the trouble in Haiti is unsettled. Not since the Spanish-American war has the United States had so many problems forced on it.

Mr. Lansing is a recognized expert on international law, a son-in-law of John W. Foster, veteran diplomat and former Secretary of State; and it is stated that his father-in-law is doing no small amount of work in the department to assist Lansing. It is fortunate for the nation that in this crisis a trained diplomat has been found to do the work for which the nominal Secretary is incompetent.

THE DRAMA LEAGUE

THE organization in Colorado Springs of a "center" of the Drama League of America is another indication of the interest taken here in matters of public entertainment. The purpose of the League is to secure and insure support for the best offerings of the stage, and its success throughout the United States has been remarkable. The theatrical fraternity considers it a boon to the stage, while cities where the organization exists have felt its influence for betterment of their local dramatic conditions.

Colorado Springs has not been especially favored this year with high-grade plays. Many of those that have played in Denver have deemed it worth while, from a financial standpoint, to come to this city. Local theatrical managers do not feel able to make large guarantees without some promise of being reimbursed. Colorado Springs is small for a theatrical town, and the business is a business and not a philanthropic venture.

But with the Drama League having a local organization here, more good plays will be booked here. The organization will conduct its publicity for the various plays receiving its support, an educational campaign will be outlined and undoubtedly more interest aroused in the better class of drama. The persons connected with the local branch are such that the "center" should prove a success. It will mean a big step forward, at any rate.

FIGHTING MACHINE OR SCHOOL?

THE resignation of Rear Admiral Fiske as "aide for operations" to the Secretary of the Navy, raises the question, Is the United States Navy a fighting machine or is it merely an educational institution? It is understood that the admiral's resignation is due to a long-standing disagreement with Secretary Egan, and that he represents the views of the naval service as a whole. However, this is not official, because Admiral Fiske is too strict a disciplinarian to talk publicly about the reasons that brought about his request for another assignment.

The difference between the Secretary and his professional advisers is that the latter believe that efficiency as a military organization should be the primary aim of the department, while Daniels and Bryan seem to think that the Navy is a convenient medium for experiments in various forms of humanitarian endeavor and for the exercise of practical politics.

Several months ago Admiral Fiske told the House Committee on Naval Affairs his opinion concerning the preparedness of the American Navy. He said the Navy was without a guiding military policy, that there are not sufficient men to man the ships in case of an emergency, that the gunnery had fallen off, and that the men were not sufficiently drilled. Having such a recognized expert state his opinions did not set well with Daniels, who has since ignored his recommendations for the improvement of the Navy.

The situation is considered hopeless as long as Daniels is at the head of the department. He, like Bryan, will be too heavy a burden to carry in 1915.

ELECTION OFFICIALS

THE dispatch with which the returns of the city election last Tuesday were completed is proof of the wisdom of choosing election judges and clerks because of their efficiency and not because of political reasons. It was thought that the preferential system of voting would take many hours for a count, and that the officials would have a hard time turning in accurate poll books, but this was not the case.

City Clerk Chapman selected the officials because of their assumed ability. In several previous elections aged men and women who could not stand the arduous labor of the count, and who did not have any special qualifications, not only failed to complete their work in a reasonable time, but made so many mistakes that the canvassing board had considerable difficulty in making the official count.

Another factor in connection with election returns is cooperation with the press. The election belongs to the people and they should be advised as to its result as quickly as possible. On several occasions 'crabbed and nervous officials, bristling with self-imposed dignity, have refused to help the newspapers. It is to be hoped that the example of Tuesday's election will be remembered.

"AFTER THE ELECTION"

To the Editor of The Gazette: Your editorial, under the above caption, appears to me to call for an expression from at least one Single Taxer — and knowing the temper of those who have seen the cat, I believe I may fairly represent the movement.

You think that the effect of the election returns will probably be the permanent ending of the discussion.

Anyone who has followed the Single Tax movement during the last 30 years knows that such a result cannot follow such a defeat. "The faithful old guard," to which you refer, has seen too many other right, though temporarily, misunderstood movements come into recognition and use, to be disengaged because Privilege (a big P, please) had a "more considerable bigger than our importance" warranted, and uncovered such a varied assortment of tricks in "persuading" their hearts' love — the wake-taxer and small home (mortgaged), owner to vote to continue a government of speculators, by speculators for speculators.

Single Taxers cannot be convinced "fo, all time" as you advise them ought, that Colorado Springs does not want to adopt their system of tax on "because it has been flauntingly shown that unlimited money in the hands of those who thrive (financially speaking) by privilege, was used to raise fog and create confusion in the minds of the voters. This method cannot succeed indefinitely. From now on the people of Colorado Springs will sit up and take notice of the trend of enlightened taxation in other places. They will take notice of the fact that for 30 years land value taxation has been in use in many places all over the world in varying degrees and that in not one instance has there been a tendency to return to the old methods. In fact a place once getting a "sample" in any form has always given an order, in spite of the frantic efforts of speculators trying to persuade them that after all it did not taste as good as the people they did.

I believe that the deciding battle for sane and just taxation have been won. There will be many small engagements like use of the one month and say what is fun to see our dignified, wise and satisfied citizens go to front cells shaken. Really wasn't it, and as a result of each there will be added to our ranks many sincere convinced Single Taxers. And in that day when justice reigns even our best citizens will wonder that they ever were afraid of her.

I am faithfully yours for progress,
L. L. HILL BINTON

URGING A SWIMMING POOL

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Since the election is now over, may I call the attention of all parents to something quite as important as the Single Tax — a healthful safe and restful recreation for every school boy in this town when the long vacation days are here?

Will every man give back to the care of his household and see if he can endure up any one thing that brought more joy to his heart than the time spent in the swimming hole on a hot summer's day? Aside from the mere joy of learning to swim, it is fair to just that all our boys should be masters of this splendid sport — especially because of the lack of natural facilities! Boys take to water as naturally as do ducks, and there is no proper place for such diversion, they go to any spot they can find, regardless of danger or sense.

Cannot the city of Colorado Springs provide a safe, clean place, properly supervised, where every boy may work off some surplus energy? If our own boys are not of sufficient importance to be considered first in the minds of those who want to boost our town, let me ask what greater attraction could we offer to the tourists, who all come from hotter climates where swimming is universal and who greatly deplore the lack of water attractions? They bring many children, and what better enjoyment or entertainment would they want than watching the little tots happiness wading in the shallow pool, or the bigger boys' antics in the deep pool?

A few public spirited citizens have talked this matter over and are now awaiting permission to utilize part of Lake No. 1 in Monument Valley Park. Let us hear from parents and citizens what they think of the project.

KATHERINE L. SPACKMAN,
Chairman of the Committee.

FROM OTHER PLACES

THE BLOCKADE

From Life.

The debate between our government and the governments of Germany and England about the relative proprieties and validities of submarine and surface blockades proceeds with politeness, but except from persons directly interested in shipping, receives less attention at this writing than the proceedings in the Dardanelles. The desire of the Germans to stock up with food is quite to be expected from persons of their healthy, normal appetites. They are surely entitled to discuss the ways and means of doing it, and the courteous attention their arguments receive from our government is no more than ought to be.

Their assurance that American food shall only be used for their civil population does not seem important, because (a) the importance of any German assurance has been prejudiced by occurrences since the first of last August, and (b) because food carried into Germany increases that country's total supply, and it matters nothing whether soldiers and civilians are helped out of the same bin or supplied from different compartments.

So also the desire of the British to end the war, and especially their so positive aspiration to throw the Germans out of Belgium and France, must command our respect, and if they think it can be done quicker by shutting off all supplies from Germany, that opinion is certainly entitled to the attentive consideration our government has been giving it.

But these blockade matters are all sea-lawyer's questions to which the laity give but a languid attention, though appreciative of the importance of keeping the record straight against a possible return of a time when international questions will be settled by international law. What 90 per cent of us are keen about is that the domination of the world by the German Kultur, linked to Krupp, may be averted; that the surviving remnant of the Belgians shall be saved alive; that the unspeakable "treachery" of the German invasion shall be damned with an unpopularity that will last a thousand years; that the Prussian militarocrats shall be abated and labeled effectively with the tag that belongs on them, and that a maltreated and anguished world may win back to the paths of peace and humane civilization.

If the Germans think they can avoid or delay this desirable consummation by blockading the British Isles with submarines, they will do it, of course, in so far as they are able to. If the English think they can hasten it by proclaiming a blockade of Germany which they cannot make a fact, of course they will do it. If our government feels that such blockades are a deterrent invasion of the rights of neutrals, of course it is bound to say so and to reiterate the opinion at convenient intervals.

Everybody surely will try to give our government, if not immediately, then as soon as is reasonably practicable; but as long as the talking forces and the fighting forces are distinct, there will be fighting, no doubt, as usual, ashore, a sky, afloat and submerged, and the usual adventuring of cargoes across the main.

WE NEED A REGULAR ARMY OF 200,000 MEN

Theodore Roosevelt in the Metropolitan.

We are at this moment shirking our duty in Mexico. At any moment, the attitude of foreign nations may be such as to render our intervention in Mexico imperative. If intervention should occur, our regular army should be in such condition as to make it entirely unnecessary to call for volunteers. Such a war would be really a war against banditti; and, as far as possible, it should be conducted as General Wood in Cuba conducted the operations that secured peace and order in the island, namely, by the natives of the country themselves.

When we intervened in Cuba in 1906, the then secretary of war, Mr. Taft assisted by Mr. Bacon, afterward ambassador to France, restored order and set the island once more on the path of orderly and law-abiding independence. We were able to restore order because we were able to send instantly to the island an efficient little regular army of somewhere near 10,000 men under General Barry. There was no need for volunteers, and volunteer forces are not well suited to a work which should be primarily that of police and pacification.

The protection of our border along the Mexican line ought to be amply provided by the regular army. Even, therefore, to provide only for what may occur in Mexico, we should have a regular army of 200,000. This would enable us adequately to garrison our coast fortifications, the Panama canal, our insular possessions and other necessary posts, and leave a mobile army of 120,000 men, an army which annual field maneuvers on a large scale should be kept at the highest point of efficiency.

If we had such an army, with an adequate reserve, there would be no need whatever to call for volunteers in the event of trouble in Mexico, and would we scared a repetition of the loss of life by disease and by neglect, by imperfect camp sanitation and by the inactivity of untrained men to take care of themselves, which we saw in the Spanish war, where by far the greatest amount of loss was suffered by forces that never left the United States or came within a thousand miles of any enemy.

GUN TOTIN'

From the Kansas City Star.

The seeming paradox that an efficient navy and a efficient citizenship army are preservatives of peace is simplified in considering that as long as there is to be "gun totin'" one of the guns had better be in the hands of a peace-loving citizen than to have all the guns in the hands of the other kind of citizens.

It has been observed that where a law against gun totin' has been enforced the law-enforcers had guns in their hands or within quick and effective reach.

BLESSINGS OF IMAGINATION

From the Toledo Blade.

Though a man never fights, he can imagine himself a scrapper and the nation that remains on good terms with the world may still have the best of fortune if he believes that it would clean up all comers if driven to it. Peace is a blessing that runs no risks of disillusionment.

THE AMERICAN FARMER

The American farmer is a careless, unscientific, lazy individual who raises more and bigger crops than the farmer of any other country.

We get the description of the American farmer from his European critics, and his results from the grain statistics of the world. It is very peculiar that no thrifitless a man should be able to turn not only himself but half a dozen foreign nations into the bargain. Perhaps if he worked harder all Europe would be enabled to abandon the farm and live entirely on war and glory.

Foreign critics tell us that if the American farmer worked as hard and as carefully as the European farmer he would raise twice as much wheat per acre. But when reproached with this the American farmer smiles a shy, sweet smile and asks that his European competitor be searched carefully for automobiles and other signs of prosperity. After a European farmer has lavished his unflagging attention for 18 hours a day upon his wheat field, raising tremendous crops thereon for 25 years, he borrows enough money to pay his fare to America where he toils mornings in a cultivator seat and drives into town in his automatic horse in the afternoon to see the ball game.

And at the end of five years the government comes down on him with great zeal and reproaches him for holding out on his income tax report.

There is some mystery in this. Why does the old world farmer work himself into an early and frugal tomb while the American farmer loafes himself into the presidency of the village bank? Is this a proper reward for industry?

In answer we might observe that it is the usual reward for industry unmixed with intelligence of any sort.

THE SOUTH TURNING From the ONE-CROP SYSTEM

THE SOUTH Will Diversify Crops, Feed Herself, Have Something to Sell Every Week in the Year and Keep More Than One Billion Dollars at Home. Diversification Means More Cotton on Less Acreage.

By Charles M.
Carroll

*Every Crop May Fail Once;
One Crop May Fail Every Year;
But Every Crop Will Not Fail
Every Year.*

The South Will Feed Herself. These significant words, full of action and determination, have been chosen as a motto by many of the cotton-growing states which have come to realize the warning spoken by the far seeing humanitarian and statesman, Henry W. Grady, nearly forty years ago, that:

To mortgage out farms in New York for money with which to buy meat and bread from outside sources is not good business.

When every farmer in the South eats bread from his own field, meat from his own pasture, vegetables from his own garden, fruit from his own orchard, and butter and milk from his own dairy; caring for his crops in his own wisdom and growing them in independence; making cotton a surplus crop and selling it in his chosen market; in his own time, for cash and not for a receipted mortgage then the South will begin to realize the fullness of her opportunities."

Advantages of the South.

The South has many advantages as an Agricultural and Live Stock Country. There is a ready market with high prices for beef, dairy and poultry products, and grain; land is cheap; the climate is mild; the South has a long growing season—two and sometimes three crops can be produced on the same soil during the same year; the South is adapted to the growing of a variety of hay and forage crops, root crops, corn, oats, and other grains. Beef can be produced at a less cost than in the northern states.

In the South the rainfall is abundant; everywhere there are streams and springs, which are of great benefit to the stockman.

The people of the South are awakening to the opportunities offered by these natural advantages.

South Developing Rapidly.

Farmers, bankers, and merchants are actively engaged in organizing plans to meet the problems which are confronting them. The cattle tick, the enemy of diversified farming, is being successfully controlled by effective campaigns conducted over the entire South by the United States Department of Animal Industry in co-operation with the people. The boll weevil is giving way to the introduction of practical systems of crop rotation. Millions of acres of hill land are being seeded to Bermuda and other grasses which serve the double purpose of providing pasture for live stock and preventing the soil from washing.

Leopard, Bur Clover, Japan Clover, Soy Beans, Cowpeas, Sweet Clover, Alfalfa, and Velvet Beans are grown in abundance for hay. Recent demonstrations show that Soudan grass is an abundant crop in nearly every section of the South.

Bringing in Boarding Stock.

As the quarantined line moves South, scrub and tick-infested cattle are replaced by thoroughbred breeding stock. The people have begun to realize the great economic saving in the production of foodstuffs at home; in other words, raising a living at home instead of buying it from outside markets. In fact the South is beginning an agricultural revolution. It took time, patience and step failures to make the people of the North rich. The time of a one-crop system is past. It has taken the boll weevil and a war of nations to impress this upon the people of the South. The turning of the worm.

The "turning of the worm" in Arkansas brought the people of that state face to face with a most astonishing agronomic problem.

Early in November, 1914, Governor Hay of Arkansas, the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, U. S. Department of Agriculture, State Bankers' Association, Railroads, State Department of Agriculture, and many other prominent interests of the state invited Perry G. Holden to come to Arkansas, and direct a state-wide educational campaign there. Investigation proved that Arkansas was sending annually $75,000,000 out of the state for the purchase of food products in the way of packing house products, corn flour, cakes, canned vegetables, and fruit, feed for stock, and other necessities, which could be more cheaply produced at home. Just $11,000,000 more than the Arkansas Cotton Crop in 1913.

Coming of Educational Campaign.

Arkansas held forth a plan of education, health, physical and social development, the crop planting out in this

DIVERSIFICATION
MEANS MORE
COTTON ON LESS ACREAGE -

The result of these campaigns proves that the agricultural and commercial possibilities of the South are almost beyond conception; that the states south of the Mason & Dixon line can produce enough foodstuffs to meet all home needs with a surplus sufficient to send a large part of the world; that Texas is sending over $200,000,000 annually to northern markets for the purchase of food products, which can be produced more abundantly and more cheaply at home; that for the same purpose Arkansas is sending away $75,000,000 annually; Alabama, $90,000,000; Oklahoma, $68,000,000; and that the same facts obtain in the other states. The South is sending over one billion dollars of hard cash away from the South annually, every dollar of which should be placed in its own banks. And this is why the South is determined to feed herself.

HAITI THE LAND OF COFFEE

Plant Requires Comparatively No Attention, and is Extraordinarily Productive.

Coffee, the great staple product of Haiti, grows with little attention. It supplies the bulk of the revenues of the government, and the meager demands of the simple peasantry of the mountains and valleys whose business it is, especially the women and children, to gather it and bring it to the seaport towns on their heads and on the backs of donkeys and horses. This plant is seen on nearly all the uplands and mountain sides of the country, and as the product is easily portable it is brought to market from far and near in all conceivable quantities, from one or two pounds up to 200 pounds, accordingly as it is carried on the head of a child, the back of a horse, or in sacks on ox carts. Notwithstanding that the coffee plant is scarcely cultivated at all, except in small patches around the cottages, it goes on reproducing itself from fallen berries so successfully that the crop only varies from year to year through extraneous influences like a variation in the rainfall—the lack of or too abundant rain near or during the flowering season.

Seaweed Pie.

According to some French scientists seaweed will become one of the popular foods of the future. Already Japan uses it in a number of dainty table dishes, and as it is cultivated it extensively that the supply may not give out.

In Brittany, too, the laver classes gather as much as twenty to thirty tons a year, and call it by the name of Iceland moss. The peasants of northern France are beginning to follow the example and number it among their articles of diet.

In other localities the weed is looked upon as possessing great medicinal value, and in Corsica it is prescribed by the doctors as a sure cure for all kinds of goiter. As gelatin and algin are contained in the seaweed it is considered by the Asiatics to be invaluable in cases of severe inflammation.

made. It is the first step into a practical system of diversified farming, and it is being put into practice by the school children of the state.

The activities of Arkansas spread rapidly into Texas, where a fifteen-day campaign was put on covering nearly all of the black belt from Fort Worth, Dallas, and Waco, to Houston and San Antonio. Fifteen counties were covered and 620 meetings were held.

In a single county, 56 meetings were put on in one day by Professor Holden's corps of agricultural workers augmented by local speakers furnished by the University of Texas, Baylor College, Texas Industrial Congress, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and other co-operative agencies.

The campaign was inaugurated in Temple, Texas, under the direction of the Temple Chamber of Commerce. 40 speakers were engaged in active field work. These men were divided into twenty crews. In each crew was a school man who handled the rural schools, and educational institutions, and one practical agriculturist who spoke to the farmers. Two thousand people left aside all other plans and took active part, serving on committees and otherwise devoting their time, money, and energy to the work.

Lecturers Ride Mule-back.

Rain and bad roads did not discourage these determined educators. Mules were saddled and pressed into service when vehicles could not be pulled through the mud. 45,000 people attended the meetings. 200,000 pieces of literature were distributed. A careful analysis of the statistics showed the Texas was sending over $200,000,000 annually to Northern and Eastern markets for feed and food products. It was plain to the business men that such an enormous drain on the wealth creating resources of the state greatly retarded its development. It was found that if every farmer in Texas had a few chickens on his farm and marketed 10 dozen of eggs every week in the year, the amount of money received annually in the combined sale at 20 cents a dozen, would amount to over $60,000,000—nearly half as much money as the whole South asked in its appeal for federal aid to finance distressed cotton growers.

Investigation proved that it required nearly 15 bales of cotton at 9 cents a pound to purchase one hundred bushels of sweet potatoes put up in tin cans, and the potatoes could be produced on one acre of land, while it required from 20 to 25 acres of land to produce the cotton, yet thousands of dollars were sent to northern markets every year for canned sweet potatoes. People began to wonder if Texas could not raise sweet potatoes.

Will Abandon One-Crop System.

When these facts were put squarely before the farmers and business men, they quickly saw the folly of raising nothing but cotton and buying all of their feed and foodstuffs from foreign markets. Bankers began to offer credit to those who wished to go into the live stock business and Texas following the plan of Arkansas began the organization of Pig and Poultry clubs.

Money is loaned at the rate of 6 percent interest per year and the boys and girls are to be directed in their work of raising pigs and poultry by the United States Government Agent and the bankers and business men will be repaid from the net earnings coming from the investment.

What the Press Agents Say

MOLLY OF THE MOUNTAINS

At the Empress today the two-reel "Broncho" special, "Molly of the Mountains," is the feature. A vivid play of the Kentucky hills with Frank Horrigan and Rhea Mitchell featured. The excellent character portraying of these two stars of the Mutual photoplays is well remembered in former productions and an enjoyable production is assured whenever they are billed to appear. The story deals with the building of a railroad in the Kentucky hills and a camp of moonshiners and the ever-present revenue officers. It is thrillingly told and the many dramatic moments are presented in faultless manner. A good story well told.

"His Brother's Debt," an American two-reel feature with Ed Copen and Winnifred Greenwood, is also on the bill. This shows a new version of fraternal responsibility. A beautiful story full of gripping pathos, with a happy sequel emphasizing the stern realities of life.

"Just Kids," a Princess comedy, a comedy made for laughter and joy, a comedy of fun and frolicsome amusement. It attains its purpose and is worth while.

"THE CHRISTIAN"

The famous author presented some interesting ideas when he wrote

California's Certified Asparagus

DEL MONTE
Canned asparagus is grown in the rich alluvial delta lands of California's great river-soil which needs no fertilization.

DEL MONTE asparagus is a selection of large, tender spears, more delicious than the fresh because they're fresher.

HUGH HERBERT

and well they might be, for it would indeed be a hard neighbor to please who could suggest improvements on this week's Orpheum program.

Hugh Herbert is a typical Jew in dialect, clothes, whiskers, walk and all. He makes a lovable character out of old Minheh as the father of two spendthrift sons who have run a well-founded business into the ground while he was away. With a few quick words over the phone he straightens things in a jiffy where the boys had failed, and then is obliged to respond to his son's creditors' greetings which welcome him home.

"Another act also headlined with Herbert is 'The Gavels Camp,' which is a series of cyclone dances presented by 14 of the fastest and most acrobatic dancers that ever landed from Russia. The men and women of this company join in stunts that are unparalleled for speed and gynastics. The stage setting is pretty, showing an immense gypsy camp."

The Wall Between is a pretty comedy presented by Clarence Oliver and George Olin. Alexander Mae- den, the compere, had just past a number of classics, and then gives everybody a surprise with a popular tune with such relations as were never before heard. Cheaper brothers and sisters stage. The Mudhens, Hesitantes, and Hairs. Watkins does a number about that surprises those of all competitors.

The box office of the Burns opens Saturday for Orpheum seat sale.

One day an old negro child in rags was carrying a basket on his head, walked into the White House and placed his basket on the floor. Stepping toward President Lincoln, he said, "Ain't you de president, Mr. Lincoln?" said Mr. Lincoln. "If dat am a fact, few min' to wait fer you. You see, I been away up dar in de back of Virginia and I've a poor boy, ma. I hear dese 'ere big politicians in de Conventry for de colored men, and I'm here to get a job."

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a form of trouble very badly and I used Lydia E.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others.

Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth." — MRS. JAMES A. BRADY, 118 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.
